POSITION DESCRIPTION 2015 YOUNG RUGBY CLUB COMMITTEE

CLUB CAPTAIN

The Club Captain is a role model at any club. You are the link between the players and the administration. Representing the views of players, and taking responsibility for their performance on and off the field, your advice and guidance should promote their interests in the development and direction of the club. You will also be the Rugby tour coordinator, an institution; the perfect way for a team to bond and a club to build new friendships and spread its reputation and organise transport for those few games each season that are out to whoop whoop.

Ideally you'll need to be:

- Enthusiastic and dedicated
- Confident and good at communicating
- Committed to fair play
- Familiar with the club and players
- An organised forward-planner

What you'll do:

- Represent players on the Management Committee and Disciplinary Committee
- Lead, advise and support fellow team mates
- Make sure other players behave themselves on and off the field
- Make players aware of administrative arrangements
- Check pre-match arrangements have been made, such as registering players, checking availability and completing match cards
- Collect match fees from players where necessary
- Help the coach organise training and player development
- Encourage players and other club members to get involved with voluntary work and social activities at the club
- Welcome new members, visiting teams and referees
- Work with team management and the Fixtures Secretary to decide destinations and itinerary
- Form and lead a team of volunteers, or appoint a tour company, to help the organisation run smoothly
- Set a budget and a plan

How much time it will take up:

About 7 hours a week, made up of 5 hours of training and playing and 2 hours of development, tour and transport work.

What you'll get out of it:

Above all this is an extremely enjoyable and respected post – the highpoint of any playing career. The administrative and people skills you'll develop are transferable to any walk of life, and as a representative of younger people's views in the game, you'll get the satisfaction of doing something truly worthwhile. You'll be helping foster the team spirit that comes with travelling to and from games together. Tours really embody the values and camaraderie of rugby, so there's no better way of seeing all your hard work pay off. Oh, and it will be lots of fun!
